Doyle Named Executive Director of Town of Hamburg Industrial Development Agency

Hamburg, New York - 19 June 2018 - The Board of Directors of the Hamburg Industrial Development Agency announced the hiring of Sean Doyle as Executive Director. Doyle succeeds the late Michael Bartlett who passed away in February 2018.

“This is an excellent opportunity to continue the prosperity and growth in Hamburg. The Town’s amenities and infrastructure are unparalleled in the region,” said Doyle.

Doyle joins the Hamburg IDA with fifteen years of experience in commercial real estate development and management. He holds an M.B.A. from Canisius College and an undergraduate degree in Public Relations from SUNY Oswego.

“Sean is an excellent fit for this critical role in our community. His experience, drive and leadership skills will surely catalyze development that Hamburg is poised to obtain,” said Thomas Moses, Mayor of the Village of Hamburg and Chairman of the Hamburg IDA Board of Directors.

“A leading factor for my excitement moving into this position is the level of engagement by the Board. Their motivation and commitment to the community is evident and I am looking forward to all that we will accomplish together,” said Doyle.

Doyle will transition into this role in July.
